

Courtyard Surgery has decided to allow the following local organisations to have access to your electronic medical record, unless you have previously decided to opt out of sharing all or part of your record.

These are local organisations whose staff have been trained in the NHS rules on confidentiality. Breaking these rules is a sackable offence. They are organisations whose staff may have to make decisions about your care when you are neither present nor on the phone.

Other organisations within the NHS will have to ask your permission for access. They might need to arrange for a PIN to be sent to your mobile phone or e-mail address to confirm who you are. Please ensure that the surgery has the correct details for you.

If you have online access set up, you can make changes to this list yourself.
